

Biography

Kathy Homara (Kathyhomara.com) is a New Thought professionally licensed practitioner, speaker and officiator and currently pursuing her Master's Degree in Advanced Consciousness. Her passion for understanding human potential and her love for life, science, humanity and the way of the Universe has taken her from the corporate world to the path toward enlightenment. She serves, empowers and educates communities to enable them to transform their lives, live their dreams and thrive. Kathy is committed to living fully and loving freely.

Currently Kathy serves at the San Jose Center for Spiritual Living and is open to providing spiritual support to people with health, relationship or anybody experiencing discontentment. Kathy is also a licensed officiator and officiates both weddings and memorial ceremonies.